

RESEARCH FOR THE REAL WORLD

Photo courtesy of U.S. Department of Defense

LANDING IN LOW VISIBILITY

GTRI researchers are investigating the use of millimeter-wave imaging radars that would allow aircraft crews to see the runway even in zero-visibility. Combining the technology with other sensors could help aircraft pilots land in virtually any condition.